

Synergy Flavours COVID-19 update

At Synergy, we take immense pride in the role we play in helping to bring safe and great tasting food to tables around the world. As the news of the day shifts from talk of delay to mitigation measures, know that our sole focus is on the protection of our employees, customers and communities, and playing our part to keep the global food supply chain strong and producing.

As a result, we are open for business. Like so many of you, we have implemented short and medium-term measures to protect our employees and allow for the continued manufacture of quality product at our many locations. These include remote working, shift rotations, additional site cleaning, and other measures to help ensure our production teams are kept well and safe. We are grateful for the hard-working men and women at Synergy and beyond, who are doing what it takes to keep the food supply chain strong in this extraordinary time.

As you implement your own strategies to keep your teams safe, we offer our partnership, solidarity and support. Know that we are at the ready to help your teams manage this unprecedented situation now and into the future. Please feel free to reach out to your local Synergy teams with any questions or if there's anything we can do to help your teams navigate the coming weeks
